Municipal Office in Szczecin

AS A CITY WITH A RICH AND LONG HISTORY, SZCZECIN HAS MANY HISTORICAL MONUMENTS

Its symbol is Wały Chrobrego (Chrobry Embankment) – an observation deck along the Oder River, adjacent to the monumental buildings that now house the Muzeum Narodowe (National Museum), Urząd Wojewódzki (Provincial Office) and Politechnika Morska (Maritime University). It is also worth taking a trip to Szczecińskie Bulwary (Szczecin Embankment) and Wyspa Łądztownia (Łądztownia Island) to see a building that looks deceptively like a ship – Morskie Centrum Nauki (Maritime Science Centre). These are not the only places worth visiting. Other captivating attractions include Zamek Książąt Pomorskich (Castle of the Pomeranian Dukes), Bazylika Archikatedralna (Archcathedral Basilica), Brama Portowa (Harbour Gate), Brama Królewska (Royal Gate), Ratusz Staromiejski (Old Town Hall) and Rynek Sienny (Hay Market Square).

AS WELL AS SIGHTSEEING, IT IS WORTH TAKING A LOOK AT SZCZECIN'S CULTURAL OFFERINGS

It has one of the oldest continuously operating cinemas in the world – the Pionier (Pioneer). Filharmonia im. Mieczysława Karłowicza (Mieczysław Karłowicz Philharmonic Concert Hall) is a world-famous landmark which has won many prestigious architectural awards for its unique acoustics. Centrum Dialogu „Przełomy” (Breakthroughs Dialogue Centre) also received accolades.

Waly Chrobrego (Chrobry Embankment)

Szczecin is called “the city of greenery and water.” It is surrounded by three large forest complexes – the Wkrzańska, Bukowa and Goleniowska primeval forests, and the city centre boasts numerous parks and city squares. The most popular places for strolling are the Jasne Błonia (Bright Meadows) square, Park Kaszpowicza (Kasprowicz Park), Park Żeromskiego (Żeromski Park), Ogród Różany (Rose Garden) and Cmentarz Centralny (Central Cemetery), which is the largest burial ground in Poland, the third largest in Europe and one of the largest in the world. Szczecin is also inextricably linked with water – the Oder River and its tributary the Regalica flow through the city, and Jezioro Dąbie (Lake Dąbie) lies within its city limits. These conditions have made it possible to create numerous marinas, beaches and bathing areas, fishing spots and a representative waterfront where many events are held.

It covers the areas of four border municipalities – Kołbaskowo, Dobra, Police, and Nowe Warpno. The area attracts lovers of active tourism and history with its natural beauty and valuable architectural monuments.

THE VAST FORESTS OF THE PUSZCZA WKRZAŃSKA (WKRZAŃSKA PRIMEVAL FOREST) ARE AN EXCELLENT PLACE FOR HIKING, CYCLING AND HORSEBACK RIDING

At its heart is the Świdwie nature reserve, one of the most important wetlands in Europe. Transgraniczny Ośrodek Edukacyjny w Zalesie (Cross-border Education Centre in Zalesie) is nearby.

The waters of Zalew Szczeciński and the Oder River provide perfect conditions for water sports, with a marina and recreational beach complex in Trzebież.

Worth a visit is Jasienica, with the ruins of an Augustinian monastery, and the picturesque town of Nowe Warpno. There are also other villages with interesting histories, small churches and houses and farm buildings that date back centuries.

GOLENIÓW AND STEPNIKA

THE VAST EXPANSES OF THE PUSZCZA GOLENIOWSKA (GOLENIÓW PRIMEVAL FOREST) AND ZALEW SZCZECIŃSKI (SZCZECIN LAGOON)

Are a true paradise for those who wish to immerse themselves in nature, for those who seek peace and quiet, and for those who enjoy active recreation both on water and on land.

The cultural centre of the area is Goleniów, a town located on the Ina river. It owed its great prosperity to its membership in the Hanseatic League. Here you can admire the magnificent monuments from that period. A tour of the town should start with the Gothic Kościół św. Katarzyny (Church of St. Catherine) and the medieval fortifications with Brama Wolińska (Wolin Gate), Baszta Prochowa/Więzienna (Gunpowder/Prison Tower) and Baszta Mennicza (Mint Tower). Nearby there is a granary and you can visit the Żółty Domek (Yellow House) which houses Ośrodek Dokumentacji Dziejów Ziemi Goleniowskiej (Documentation Centre of the History of the Goleniów Region).

The largest natural treasure of the town's surroundings is Puszcza Goleniowska (Goleniów Primeval Forest) with its extensive network of hiking trails. It is a paradise for mushroom and berry pickers. Ośrodek Edukacji Przyrodniczo-Leśnej (Nature and Forest Education Centre) operates in Kliniska. For active tourists, there is the „Meandry Iny” (Meanders of the Ina River) kayak trail, which ends at a modern marina in Lubczyna.

Goleniów is well connected with Szczecin and the entire region by trails, roads and railway lines. Visitors from all over Europe and distant Polish cities can reach the region quickly thanks to the airport located right next to Goleniów.

The natural environment of Stepnica is truly unique. It combines woodland, extensive wet meadows and the waters of Zalew Szczeciński and the Oder estuary. All this contributes to the great diversity of flora and fauna found in such a small area. The site has become the kingdom of the white-tailed eagle. The largest predatory birds found in Poland form one of the main concentrations in Europe here. Near the village of Czarnocin you can observe wild Polish Koniks and long-haired Scottish Highland cows. Nearby there are developed bathing areas, dozens of kilometres of walking and cycling trails, marinas and equipment hire.

STARGARD

IT IS ONE OF THE OLDEST TOWNS IN POLAND, HAVING RECEIVED ITS TOWN CHARTER IN 1243

Traces of its centuries-long and turbulent history can still be seen in the landscape today. In the past, the city was known as the „Jewel of Pomerania” because of its many historical monuments, which are on a par with the most prestigious in Poland. Here you will find one of the most precious monuments of the region, as well as the most beautiful late medieval church – Kolegiata NMP (the Collegiate Church of the Blessed Virgin Mary), located at the Rynek Staromiejski (Old Town Square). Right next to it is the town hall, with its beautifully decorated façade and a guardhouse with arcades. The city’s fortification system is also noteworthy, with fortified walls and numerous gates and towers. The walls are surrounded by a complex of parks set up in the place of former earth fortifications.

AN INTERESTING FACT IS THAT STARGARD IS LOCATED ON THE 15TH EASTERN LONGITUDE MERIDIAN

When visiting the city, it is worth visiting the Basteja (Roundel), a historic 16th-century defensive structure that now houses the Muzeum Archeologiczno-Historyczne (Museum of Archeology and History) and the Stargardzkiego Centrum Nauki FILARY (FILARY Stargard Science Centre).

Town walls and Baszta Sowa (Owl's Tower) in Pyrzyce

THE MOST VALUABLE HISTORICAL MONUMENT IN PYRZYCE IS THE TOWN WALL WITH SIX PRESERVED TOWERS AND TWO GATES.

It is estimated that they were constructed in the late 12th or early 13th century. Other sites worth seeing in Pyrzyce include Muzeum Ziemi Pyrzyckiej (the Museum of the Pyrzyce Region), Kaplica św. Ducha (the Holy Ghost Chapel), Kościół Wniebowzięcia NMP (the Church of Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary), or Ratusz (the Town Hall) and Studzienka (the Well) built at the site of Święte Źródło (the Holy Spring), whose waters were used by Saint Otto to baptise the people of Pyrzyce in 1124. Pyrzyce is an important centre of folk culture in the province, where the original folklore of the region is still cultivated.

Another place of interest is the town of Lipiany, situated on an isthmus between two lakes. The layout of the medieval streets and the historic market square have been preserved to this day. Another place worth visiting is Ogród Dendrologiczny (Dendrological Garden) in Przelewice, with its numerous exotic plants, a beautiful Japanese garden, a collection of rhododendrons and azaleas, Dolina Pięciu Źródeł (Five Springs Valley) and Aleja Róż (Rose Alley).

The largest river in the district is the Płonia, which flows through the Płoń and Miedwie lakes. The Miedwie lake (36.8 km<sup>2</sup>) is the fifth largest lake in Poland. Its bottom is located 28 m below sea level. There are swimming areas and watersports equipment hire around the lake. As well as sailing, the lake is perfect for windsurfing, kitesurfing, scuba diving and kayaking. Miedwie is also a paradise for anglers, walkers and cyclists.

KOSZALIN

IT IS THE SECOND LARGEST CITY IN POMORZE ZACHODNIE (WESTERN POMERANIA)

It lies just 11 kilometres from the Baltic Sea, on two lakes – Jamno and Lubiатовo Północne. Jezioro Jamno is a frequent venue for water sports – sailing, canoeing, windsurfing and kitesurfing. Many equipment hire companies and marinas operate here. Koszalin also has an artificial water reservoir – Wodna Dolina (Water Valley) lagoon, which has a modern wake park.

ONE OF THE CITY'S GREAT ASSETS IS ITS NUMEROUS GREEN AREAS

While strolling around Koszalin, it is worth visiting the Park Książąt Pomorskich (Park of Pomeranian Dukes), located near the Old Town, and the nearby Chełmska Hill, with a viewpoint from which you can enjoy a beautiful panorama of the surrounding area. There is also a small chapel there – Sanktuarium Matki Bożej Trzykróć Przedziwnej (Shrine of the Mater Ter Admirabilis).

Fans of historical monuments will be eager to see Koszalin's cathedral and Domek Kata (Hangman's House). The Skansen Kultury Jamneńskiej (Jamno Culture Open-Air Museum) is also an interesting place.

Koszalin offers theaters, a philharmonic hall, and an amphitheater for cultural event enthusiasts. Koszalińska Kolej Wąskotorowa (Narrow-Gauge Railway) and Obserwatorium Astronomiczne (Astronomical Observatory) in Koszalin are also worth a visit. Tourists often take a water taxi across Jezioro Jamno to the sea or a rail bus on the route between Koszalin and Mielno.

In powiat koszaliński (Koszalin county) there are numerous historic churches, palaces and manor houses with parks. Among the most interesting of these are the palace and park complexes in Strzekęcino, Parsowo and the Neo-Renaissance palace in Nosowo. Renovated buildings, such as Zamek Rycerski Podewils (Podewils Knights' Castle) in Krąg, Dworek (Manor House) in Osieki and Pleśna, and Bursztynowy Pałac (Amber Palace) in Strzekęcino, serve as hotels and restaurants.

A real treasure of the area is the Kamienne Kręgi (Stone Circles) archaeological reserve in Grzybnicki Forest, 20 kilometres south of Koszalin. Other notable structures are mills and hydroelectric power plants, including a modern pumped-storage facility in Żydów, with a viewing point overlooking the Radew valley.

The memory of these heroic events is guarded by monuments, military cemeteries and small museums embedded in the tourist landscape of the Oder river area. The district offers an important lesson in history, patriotism and knowledge of the region.

ZACHODNIOPOMORSKI SZLAK ŻEGLARSKI (WESTERN POMERANIAN SAILING ROUTE)

Zachodniopomorski Szlak Żeglarski is a network of new and modernised ports and marinas across Pomorze Zachodnie (Western Pomerania), located on the Oder river, Jezioro Dąbie (Dąbie Lake), around the Zalew Szczeciński (Szczecin Lagoon) and along the Baltic Sea coast. No other part of Poland offers such extensive sailing opportunities. You can spend days sailing from port to port, honing your skills on different waters of varying difficulty. Distances between the modern and attractive ports do not exceed 20-30 nautical miles, that is, several hours of leisurely sailing.

This makes it possible to reach the next destination port along the route in one day and allows safe, tourist sailing not only for seasoned sailors, but also for less experienced sailing enthusiasts, even with their families. The waters are diverse, filled with charming corners, and for those craving a true maritime adventure, they also offer challenging opportunities.

To the south, the route reaches Gryfino, passes through a number of sites within the boundaries of Szczecin and leads out to Jezioro Dąbie. In Zalew Szczeciński, it covers ports and marinas in Trzebież, Nowe Warpno, Lubczyna, Stepnica and Wolin, as well as on the shores of the Wolin Island and in Kamień Pomorski on Zalew Kamieński (Kamień Lagoon). It continues along Pomorze Zachodnie coast, from Świnoujście through Dziwnów, Mrzeżyno, Kołobrzeg and Mielno to reach Darłowo.

The marinas along the route have extensive infrastructure – well-prepared berths, water and electricity supply points, sanitary facilities, equipment hire and camping areas. It is the perfect destination for a relaxing sailing experience.

BIKE ROUTES

The vast green spaces and breathtaking nature of Pomorze Zachodnie (Western Pomerania) encourage tourists to take short and long cycling trips. Well-marked routes and extensive infrastructure make this a great activity for both experienced cyclists and those looking to improve their fitness.

Planning a cycling trip through Pomorze Zachodnie is made easy with a specially designed website and app. They include not only maps of cycle routes, but also 360-degree panoramas, trip suggestions, descriptions of tourist attractions, historical monuments and interesting events.

Pomorze Zachodnie offers five cycle routes, which can be combined according to the distance you wish to cover and the number of days you wish to travel. Of course, not all of them have to be spent entirely on a bike. # POMORSKA DROGA ŚW. JAKUBA (POMERANIAN CAMINO DE SANTIAGO)

Bazylika archikatedralna św. Jakuba
(Archcathedral Basilica of St James) in Szczecin

The Camino de Santiago, or the Way of St. James, is a network of trails across Europe, including from Lithuania through Poland, Germany and France all the way to Spain's Santiago de Compostela – the burial place of the apostle St. James. The Way of St. James has religious and cultural significance, connecting many important religious sites and monuments. Along the trail you will encounter spirituality, architecture and art, but also meet people, history and nature.

The West Pomeranian section of the trail runs along the coast, linking the cathedrals in Koszalin, Kołobrzeg, Kamień Pomorski and Szczecin. The route symbol is a yellow shell on a blue background. If you decide to follow the trail, it is a good idea to bring your pilgrim's passport (available at selected starting points and by post) – the stamps you collect will confirm that you have completed successive sections of the route and earned the badge. On the way, it is worth stopping at Muzeum Oręża Polskiego (Museum of Polish Arms) in Kołobrzeg. It features a medieval pilgrim's shell found during archaeological work.

SZLAK TEMPLARIUSZY (KNIGHTS' TEMPLAR TRAIL)

Drahim – Castle of the Order of St John

A real treat for history buffs is the trail that follows the footsteps of the Knights Templar, who were also active in Pomorze Zachodnie. Medieval knights, clad in robes adorned with large red crosses, settled here in the 13th century. Today you can still admire the remains of their activities. The best-preserved structure is the Templar chapel in Chwarszczany. The chapel in Rurka and the church in Banie are also worth a visit. Another curiosity are the mysterious chessboards found in the temples of Dolsko, Moryń or Lubiechów. Their creation is also attributed to the Templars.

SZLAK CYSTERSKI (CISTERCIAN TRAIL)

The Cistercian Order was one of the most important drivers of development and innovation in the Middle Ages. There are many traces of its presence in Pomorze Zachodnie (Western Pomerania).

The Pomorze Zachodnie trail, which is part of the European Szlak Cysterski, passes through 10 towns where the Order's activities have been recorded. A journey in the footsteps of the Cistercians is not only an opportunity to learn about the history of the order and the unique church architecture, but it also provides a spiritual experience.

The Pomorze Zachodnie monasteries were owned by both male and female communities of the Cistercian order. The largest and best preserved is the massive monastery complex in Kolbacz.

Here you can see a unique, meticulously crafted rosette located on the western wall of the church. The second, impressively grand building is the monastery in Bierzwik. The buildings of the former Cistercian nunnery in Marianowo are a rather mysterious place. It was in this monastery that Sidonia von Borcke, who was accused of witchcraft, stayed for about 15 years. Other places where the remains of medieval Cistercian monasteries can be admired are Cedynia, Pełczyce and Koszalin. The route also leads to Winniki (Węgorzyno commune), where there is a convent of modern Cistercian monks.

SZLAK GRYFITÓW (GRIFFIN TRAIL)

Zamek Książąt Pomorskich
(Castle of the Pomeranian Dukes) in Szczecin

The ducal Griffin dynasty ruled the Duchy of Pomerania for more than 500 years (12th–17th century) becoming one of the longest-reigning dynasties in all of Europe. The griffin (half eagle, half lion), from which the dynasty takes its name, has been the symbol of Polish and German Pomerania and several regions of Scandinavia for 800 years, testifying to the common cultural heritage of the area.

In Pomorze Zachodnie, the Szlak Gryfitów includes places that share an extremely interesting history, including both historical elements and legends, anecdotes or preserved material heritage. By following the trail, you can see how the grand wedding of Prince Bogislaw X with Polish royal Anna Jagiellon looked like at the Szczecin castle, or the cell of the witch Sidonia, whose curse was said to have contributed to the end of the dynasty, or how Lubinus map, one of the greatest achievements of its kind in 17th-century Europe, was created. The trail also enables an expedition to search for the treasure of Prince Eric of Pomerania – the great king of all Scandinavia and a pirate on the Baltic Sea.

MUZEUM ZIMNEJ WOJNY PODBORSKO 3001 (COLD WAR MUSEUM – PODBORSKO 3001)

The facility was part of a secret nuclear base of the Soviet military. The location of the base was top secret until the early 1990s. More than 150 Soviet soldiers were stationed here. The site was prepared for 160 warheads. The last warheads reportedly left the base in 1988.

BORNE SULINOWO

One of the youngest towns in Poland – it was officially granted the status of a town on 15 September 1993 and did not appear on Polish maps until 1992. During the war, large garrisons of the Nazi German army were stationed here, and after the war they were replaced by a secret Soviet military base. The town is like an open-air museum of military architecture. The tourist and walking path leads next to the former officers' canteen, a military hospital and General Dubynin's villa. In August, the Międzynarodowy Zlot Pojazdów Militarynych Gąsienice i Podkowy (International Military Vehicle Rally "Tracks and Horseshoes") is held here.

TWIERDZA ŚWINOUJŚCIE (ŚWINOUJŚCIE FORTRESS)

It consists of Fort Anioła (Angel's Fort) and Fort Zachodni (Western Fort) on the Uznam island and Fort Gerhardt (Gerhard's Fort) and Podziemne Miasto (Underground City) on the Wolin island, whose history dates back to Prussian times. Today they combine museum and cultural functions.

Artillery, rocket and radar equipment is presented in an outdoor exhibition.

The tourist trail leads through defensive elements of medieval and modern fortifications. It presents the history of defence in Kołobrzeg, which began in the 14th century with the construction of a fortified town and ended in the late 19th century with the dismantling of the Kołobrzeg fortress. A walk along the trail can be rounded off with a visit to Muzeum Oręża Polskiego (Museum of Polish Arms) and Skansen Morski (Open Air Maritime Museum).

It exhibits memorabilia of the engineering forces of the 1 Armia WP (1st Polish Army). The outdoor exhibition features amphibians, boats, landing crafts and other vehicles.

SZLAK UMOCNIEŃ WAŁU POMORSKIEGO (POMERANIAN EMBANKMENT FORTIFICATION TRAIL)

Remnants of fortifications, the construction of which began in 1934 in preparation for the war. They stretched from the Baltic Sea near Darłowo to the so-called Międzyrzecki Rejon Umocniony (Międzyrzecze Fortified Region). Bunkers and combat shelters were built in the area of Borne Sulinowo, Mirosławiec, Szczecinek, and Wałcz. Fierce and bloody battles were fought in early 1945 to break through the Pomeranian Embankment. The remains of destroyed bunkers and shelters in the forests of the Lake District bear witness to this, as do museum exhibitions of unique memorabilia: Muzeum Wału Pomorskiego i Militarnej Historii Pomorza (Museum of the Pomeranian Embankment and the Military History of Pomerania) in Szczecinek, Muzeum Walk o Wał Pomorski w Mirosławcu (Museum of the Battles for the Pomeranian Embankment in Mirosławiec), Grupa Warowna Cegielnia „Brickyard” Fortress Group) – an open-air museum of fortifications in Wałcz.

It brings together re-enactors from all over the world to recreate medieval scenes, including a great battle between two camps of warriors.

A MEDIEVAL CASTLE IN MORYŃ

The castle in Moryń is a treat for fans of the slightly later medieval period. Here you can see a reconstruction of the bailey, houses of old craft masters, a feast hall and a fencing area. Visitors can take part in field games, historical events and workshops.

REGIONAL FLAVOURS

The waters of Western Pomerania – the Baltic Sea, Zalew Szczeciński (Szczecin Lagoon) and Zalew Kamieński (Kamień Lagoon), numerous rivers and lakes – are rich in fish. The region's specialties are therefore fish dishes – fish soup, fried fish and smoked fish. Both on the coast and in the lake districts you can easily buy freshly caught fish or a prepared dish straight from the smokehouse. Paprykarz Szczeciński (Szczecin Paprikash) was a dish that gained national popularity. It was a tinned dish made with African fish, tomatoes imported from Hungary or Romania and the “pima” spice from Nigeria. Today, paprykarz is still associated with Szczecin and offered by many restaurants that prepare it according to their own recipe.

A dish typical in Szczecin is pasztacik Szczeciński (Szczecin Pâté). They consist of a yeast dough with a filling, which is prepared in a special frying machine. The history of this product begins in the 1960s, when Szczecińska Spółdzielnia Społem the (Szczecin Cooperative Społem) received a machine imported from the Soviet Union, which was used for its production. In December 2010, pasztacik Szczeciński was added to the list of traditional products.

The culinary specialties of Western Pomerania include various types of honey – lime, multiflower, rapeseed and buckwheat. The best known is Miód Drahimski (Drahim Honey) – a regional product of the Drawskie and Szczecineckie Lake Districts.
